How Survivors’ Housing Security Has Been Impacted By the Pandemic

• Housing challenges and needs of survivors
• Housing barriers and needs of survivors of color
• Increased incidents of domestic violence during COVID-19
• Why it is important for survivors to stay housed during a pandemic; long-term impacts of eviction
Housing Insecurity Survivor Impacts

- "Pandemic within a Pandemic—Shadow Pandemic"
- Increases of domestic and sexual violence as a result of stay at home orders—recent review found an 8% increase from the Council on Criminal Justice
- October 2020: https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC7539928/#bib2
- April 2020: https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC7195322/ (this includes a breakdown of increased percentages of DV emergency calls/arrests in certain cities/metro areas in the U.S.)
- This New England Journal of Medicine article actually has a different perspective and talks about the drop in calls to DV services because of the inability of survivors to safely connect with services: https://www.nejm.org/doi/full/10.1056/NEJMp2024046
- Overall, women (esp African American and Latina women) face higher rates of housing insecurity/evictions and poverty than men, they earn less due to the gender wage gap, and they experience higher rates of sexual violence harassment and domestic violence. And during the COVID-19 pandemic, those disparities have increased https://www.aclu.org/news/racial-justice/clearing-the-record-how-eviction-sealing-laws-can-advance-housing-access-for-women-of-color/
Impacts of Sexual Violence During Covid

- COVID19 and inability to pay rent can increase vulnerabilities as it relates to housing security and potentially putting people at risk of homelessness. Many survivors of sexual assault, abuse, and harassment have complex housing needs. Experiencing violence can jeopardize a person’s housing, and experiencing homelessness or housing insecurity can increase the risk someone will experience violence. https://www.nsvrc.org/resource/2595/sexual-violence-housing-infographic

- The Justice Department’s Sexual Harassment in Housing Initiative is an effort to address sexual harassment in housing led by the Civil Rights Division. The goal of the Initiative is to address sexual harassment by landlords, property managers, maintenance workers, loan officers or other people who have control over housing. Many individuals do not know that being sexually harassed by a housing provider can violate federal law or that the Department of Justice may be able to help. - National Alliance to End Sexual Violence, survey reported 40% of the rape crisis centers have seen increased demand for services. While hospitals are performing fewer sexual assault forensic exams (i.e. rape kits) than prior years. Reasons are multi-faceted, but fear of going to the hospital is likely a large contributor. This decrease is not unique to COVID-19. According to the National Sexual Violence Resource Center (NSVRC), “the reporting of sexual violence in disasters is often considered a ‘luxury issue—something that is further down on the hierarchy of needs’ for disaster victims.” Upticks in sexual violence during emergencies is actually much larger than we think.
